RAAGA
The rhythm of life

What gets us to celebrate each other's uniqueness?

How do we ensure our children enjoy their childhood and our elderly enjoy the twilight of their lives?

These are questions that have been asked from time immemorial.

Living in the world we know today brings these questions into sharper focus.

At a time where even neighbours are turning into strangers, at Kolte Patil, we're bringing a concept in living that has always been a part of life in India.

A life that has always been celebrated as a community.

By being a part of each other's lives, being there for each other.

Where every moment is celebrated together. As an UTSAV. As a celebration of life.

These are the values that have shown that happiness when achieved together is happiness multiplied.

Welcome to a Celebration of Life!

It is with these insights into life that we bring you a concept in homes that recreates the Utsav of living.

UTSAV is a celebration of living in a community environment.

Where individuality is celebrated as much as togetherness.

Where nature is an integral part of the living environment.

It's a celebration of living in a home built with quality and superior design.

Of living in the right place and at the right price.

UTSAV is also an acknowledgement of the importance of Vaastu and the 5 elements of air, wind, earth, fire, water and sky.

When you live like this, you strike the right balance between yourself and the universe. You find your own rhythm.

The first of such projects under the concept of UTSAV is RAAGA.

RAAGA - The rhythm of life

Like musical notes arranged in a symphony, you will find yourself and your surroundings in perfect harmony in Raaga.

Raaga creates an environment with space for every aspect of you. Spaces you can be active, spaces where you can be meditative in the midst of nature, spaces cosy enough to feel sheltered and grand enough to feel challenged.

These thoughtfully designed, competitively priced, quality homes are located on Kannur Road, near Thannisandra. These 2 and 3 BHK apartments are perfect embodiment of balance. Creating a setting that for the perfect rhythm of life.

A setting to entertain and a cocoon to retreat into with your loved ones.

A space to recharge and one to expend energy.

Rendered image of bedroom

An escape into nature and a surrender to affection.

A place to work up a sweat and a place to cool down.

Find something to nurture every aspect of yourself.
Then you'll find your inner rhythm.
