Perungalathur, is simply means the place with hill and ample greenery, making it an ideal escape from the dusty confines of the city. Located on the NH-45 between Tambaram and Vandalur, Perungalathur is well connected by both rail and road.

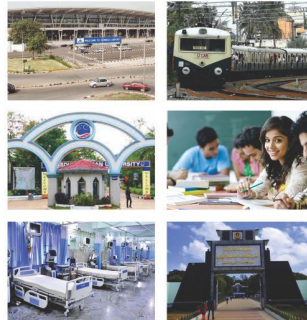

Adding value to this suburb are the Arignar Anna Zoological Park (Vandalur Zoo), educational institutions like Crescent Engineering College and GKM College of Engineering and commercial establishments like the Shriram-The Gateway, IT/ITeS Special Economic Zone and Accenture. The area's commercial development has gone hand-in-hand with its emergence as a prime residential locality on the GST Road.

There is a lot of natural place in the region with plants of Plantain, Coconut Palm, and Mango neem common in most households. It provides clean and pollution free environment. The area is in proximity to prominent locations of the city and is connected by various public transit systems. The progress in the area's business property has led to a development of many new housing projects.
