About Us.

Rohit and Sandeep, two young professionals, were brimming with excitement. They'd finally saved enough for their dream home. But their joy turned sour as they navigated the labyrinth of the unorganized real estate market. From unscrupulous brokers to hidden charges, every step felt like a gamble. Navigating the challenges of the unorganized real estate sector, Rohit and Sandeep, united by a common experience, envisioned a solution: a transparent and reliable marketplace for buyers like themselves.

They envisioned Regius, a company built on the foundation of their own harrowing experience. It wouldn't be just another player; it would be a champion for buyers, ensuring a smooth and informed journey. Regius would leverage technology and ethical practices to bring transparency to every aspect of the real estate transaction. They wouldn't just sell properties; they would empower buyers with knowledge and exceptional service, making the dream of a joyful experience, not a harrowing ordeal.

Driven by the shared vision and a determination to prevent others from facing the same struggles, Rohit and Sandeep embarked on a mission to transform the real estate landscape, one frustrated buyer at a time.
